Indian city case studies to be presented and discussed

Special Sessions for Mayors and Municipal Councillors from the States of Telangana, Andhra Pradesh, Karnataka, Tamil Nadu and Kerala on Inclusive and Sustainable Mobility and Intelligent Mobility.

Hyderabad Conference will deliberate on various components of the chain of urban transport from conceptualization of urban transport projects, design, financing and execution. Nine leading transport technology and service providers will display the latest technologies.

AICTE and Distance Education Council (DEC) had given approval to conduct the course although totally "flawed" decision. Even UGC Guidelines allowed deemed universities to apply for facto approval.

To its surprise, the court found the courses were also started obtaining approval of the apex national education regulator - Council for Technical Education (AICTE).

Ordering to stop all further admission into these courses beginning academic year, the Bench of Adarsh K Goel and UU Lalit directed the Centre to set up a three expert committee to analyse and propose a roadmap to strengthen the regulatory mechanism for the universities and higher education. The Committee will give recommendations to the Centre by August 2018. The matter was placed before the Court for consideration on September 14, 2017.

The Court was highly critical of the conduct of officials in UGC, DEC and HRD Ministry and on one hand, the authorities claiming their policy statement. Regulations 2010 that deemed universities from offering distance learning courses), other, despite there being a suggestion they went about granting admissions."

Terming this as "colourable exercise of power, the Bench ordered to bring all the guilty to book.
